9 Students Comprise Acad. Library Staff

The school year of 1935 has developed signs of being a banner year in Library activities. Besides having acquired a large number of new books, the staff selected by Father Kaufmann earlier in 1934 has become more and more efficient and capable in executing its daily routine. His expectations have been far exceeded.

The complete group of librarians comprises nine students, of which six are seniors. Those men are: Bert Ameche, Bill Koob, Bill Moran, Art O'Neill, Ray Roseliep, and Francis Speyer.

Bert Ameche is that affable fellow who walks around with his hair continually on end, dispensing rays of sunshine. Bert doesn't go in very much for extra-curricular activities, but contented himself with making the honor roll, and just "getting around." Bill Koob this last season was one of the most reliable subs the football team boasted of, and received a minor athletic award. Moran is termed a classy basketball center by all the sports writers; he-

TWO COLUMBIANS WIN CITY SKATING DERBY

On the eve of last Wednesday, Feb. 6, the Dubuque Recreation committee sponsored a gala event at the local ice-rink, consisting of a number of races. The contests were presided over by Messrs. McCauley and Grabow, managers of the rink.

The program was made up of the following races: junior boys', a junior girls', a senior one mile, a senior girls', a boy's intermediate .880 and one mile, and finally a 1 1/2 mile, a two mile race.

All of these were exciting, enlivened particularly by the tumbles of the various contestants.

The .880 and the one mile races were both won by Columbia Academy representatives. Paul Huber and Harmon Stillmunkes. Both are fine skaters and about equally matched but Huber, with his bit of advantage, took first place and Mr. Stillmunkes, second. The former of

Robert Hanson Wins Scouting Honor

Columbia Academy has always been more or less affiliated with the national union commonly known as the Boy Scouts of America, through the medium of its students. The organization has been famous for the past quarter century as a staunch upholder of Christian ideals and principles. It acts in a dual capacity: (1) as a perfect means of profitably occupying one's spare moments, and (2) as a head-liner in promoting clean, wholesome boys.

The famous organization sprung from a humble beginning—February 9, 1910, to be exact. It was formulated in New York City and soon grew throughout the nation. Some years later it was recognized by the Congress of the United States as a factor profitable to the growth of the nation.

It furnishes boys of capable ability with a means of recreation. It teaches one to be self-dependent, courteous, honest, and straightforward.

The Rev. John A. Theobald, Columbia College, is the Archdiocesan

Kenosha Alumni In Various Businesses

As we look back over the classes graduated from Columbia Academy in the past years, we can pick out many that are making names for themselves in the various fields of business, finance, and industry.

The records of two Kenosha, Wisconsin youths, Elmer Conforti, '28, and Amadeo Pacetti, '26, however, reveal interesting sidelights.

Mr. Conforti is well known in the State of Wisconsin for his periodical, "The Wisconsin Restaurateur". This magazine is published monthly in the interest of restaurants, hotels, and confectionery stores. Also, it has had no small influence on recent

CYO ACTIVITIES CLAIM STUDENTS' ATTENTION

With the advent of the winter season, CYO activities again came into the spotlight. The students of the Academy take a lively and lasting interest in the diversion this organization provides them.

The activities of the CYO are divided into two parts. There is the social program consisting of dances, and the sporting program consisting of a basketball league in which all the parishes have a representative team. However it seems that the students of the Academy take a more active part in the social diversions this society offers them.

Among those that take the greatest interest in these programs are:

Short Story Contest Closes March First

The annual Short Story Contest, one of the most valued traditions of Columbia Academy, is nearing its close. The contest, open to all students of the Academy, will end on March 1, 1935.

The Academy Seniors especially have been working the past few days to submit very good short stories. The prime factor in the composition of such a piece of work is originality.

Simple themes are perhaps the best. Do not attempt to write about obscure things, with which everyone is not familiar. It is also a good policy to try and write about something of your own personal experience.

All students of the school should try to submit something to the contest. Try and adjust yourself to the correct mental mood; take your pen in hand and jot down your notes. Submit your masterpiece to your English Professor.

We wish to stress again that all students should submit something to this, the Annual Short Story Contest of Columbia Academy.

Elocutionary Contest Results Announced

The results of the semi-finals of the Columbia Academy annual elocutionary contest have been announced. This contest is one of the oldest and most important extra-curricular activities of the Academy, particularly from the standpoint of training in public speaking and its implied analysis of thought. The oratorical division was held in the auditorium on January 29; the dramatic on February 5, and the humorous on February 12.

In the oratorical division, William Keller and Alphonse White were chosen as the men to compete in the finals, with William Noonan as

FR. DUGGAN ENTERS CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY

Father Raymond P. Duggan, spiritual director of the Catholic Charities for the Archdiocese of Dubuque, has left for Washington, D.C., where he will enroll in the school of social work of the Catholic University of America. Father Duggan's position in the charities office will be temporarily filled by Father Joseph Dunn, pastor of St. Philomena's church, Asbury, Dubuque. Father Dunn, a Columbia College graduate of 1921, will also continue as pastor at Asbury.

Father Duggan's classes at the academy have been taken over by Lawrence Dell, Columbia College graduate of the class of 1928.

Diocesan Tournament Starts February 25

The Annual Diocesan Tournament will be held in the College Gymnasium on February 25, 26, and 27. The customary "A" and "B" divisions will battle it out for the much-desired trophy at this time. In former years the Gubs have usually copped trophy or come out a close second and we wish them the best of luck for the coming fray.

As a supplement to the Archdiocesan Tournament there will also be a Consolation Tournament in the Academy Gym beginning February 26. This Tournament is held as sort of a consolation for the teams of "B" division which have been eliminated in the Main Conference. It is an effort to give them another chance to prove their worth. This tournament is also open to the basketball teams of those parishes in the Diocese which have no affiliated High School. The requirements for eligibility of players on these teams are that they be of high school age and that they do not play on any other high school basketball team. This promises to be an interesting tournament.

The Diocesan Tournament will be played by about thirty teams but the State Tournament which opens

MOTHERS' CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING MONDAY

Monday evening at 8 o'clock, there will be a meeting of the Academic Mother's Club in the Library.

Mrs. Lenz, president of the Unit, is anxious that all the mothers who can attend, do so. The program arrangement will be open for suggestions and discussions from the mothers.

In the past, the Mothers' Club has done a great deal in promoting the best interests of the Academy, and from the work accomplished thus far, the program for the future, although tentative, looks rather optimistic.

The ticket sale for "The Perfect Alibi" proved to be very successful due to the cooperative spirit displayed by the mothers.

Several other activities are to take place in the near future, plans for which shall be discussed at the assembly on Monday evening.

The C. S. M. C. Convention

Dubuque is most fortunate to have been selected as host for the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade's annual convention which will be held next August.

Dubuque needs youth, even as the Church needs Catholic youth, and this convention will bring about a thousand young students from all over the country to a Dubuque too long submerged in the smug complacency of age.

But Dubuque has great natural beauty, even through its very antiquity, and she is possessed of much talent, notably perhaps in music—these will have some chance at appreciation in the coming convention. Her educational institutions will be aided immeasurably; particularly Clarke and Columbia since they are the headquarters of the convention.

And finally the fact that Dubuque is the site of the convention is a gracious tribute to our own archbishop, who has distinguished himself not only as a founder but also as a guiding figure in this great and far-reaching organization.

School Spirit

School spirit, in its truest and best sense, is much more than attending games and cheering for one's team—although these things are of course important. Really school spirit is taking an active part in one's school and all of its activities.

It stands to reason that since we spend a good deal of our life in school, we must be a very definite part of it. Few of us are so self-sufficient that we are not affected by our surroundings in some way at least. And since this is so, we might as well direct our attention towards the improvement of our school and the furthering of its best interests.

An unfortunate impression has always been attached to school spirit: that it is concerned only with sports. But real school spirit should be connected with all the efforts of a school—the cultural and intellectual as well as the physical.

Father Peters Praised For Radio Broadcasting

The Rev. V. J. Peters, well known member of the Academy and present chaplain of the Immaculate Conception Academy, Dubuque, is modestly receiving a tremendous amount of praise for his work in radio. It is principally due to his efforts that several students of the Academy have turned to the air waves for spare time diversion.

For several years Father Peters has been interested in short wave radio and he has gradually increased the size of his transmitter until it is one of the most powerful in this locality. At the present time he is engaged in making a model studio of his room so that the sound accusations will be nearly perfect.

Recently he was appointed to give the Boy Scouts via the short wave the latest activities of this Scout District. This recognition was due, not only to the great interest he has shown in radio, but to the efforts he has advanced to bring a knowledge of radio fundamentals to Scouts by means of his radio classes.

W9BHO, the call letters of his station, has been heard in nearly every state of the Union and several foreign countries. Father Peters has received many interesting cards from short wave enthusiasts verifying the friendly talk he has had with them. One of the most interesting of these was received last fall from New Zealand. During the recent Christmas vacation, Father Peters had the opportunity of visiting Father Fox near Kansas City with whom he had become acquainted by radio.

COLLEGE TO PRESENT "SIGN OF THE CROSS"

The tryouts for The Sign of the Cross, one of the greatest and most popular of all religious plays, were held last evening. The production of this play by the Columbia College Players on Passion Sunday, is really a commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of dramatics in the college. For The Sign of the Cross was produced here in 1911, when dramatics were just beginning to function

SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMAS PRESENTED AT CLARKE

Under the auspices of the I. C. A. alumnae, the famous Old Globe Company produced four of Shakespeare's most popular plays in the Clarke Auditorium on the afternoon and evening of February 13. This company is fresh from its debut in the Merrile England Village at the Century of Progress where they justly earned an enviable reputation as producers of Shakespearean plays.

The four plays, "Julius Caesar," "Midsummer Night's Dream," "The Taming of the Shrew" and "Twelfth Night," are perhaps the best of the Company's Shakespearean repertoire. It would, of course, be impossible and not a little tiresome for the audience to witness four of Shakespeare's complete plays in an afternoon and an evening. Consequently, the plays were all cut to a length of forty or fifty minutes, hitting the dramatic highlights and omitting the lengthy descriptions. Shakespeare, of course, had no scenery but had to supply words for the imagination to work on; the Old Globe Company substituted scenery, of which it carried over three tons, for those descriptions. An efficient stage crew aided the almost unbelievable swiftness of the movement of the plays. The players' interpretations were superb.

the alternate. Robert Deggendorf and Robert Hanson won first in the dramatic division, Swift being the alternate. John Link and Raymond Roseliep were selected as the best in the humorous section, and Philip Renier will be the alternate.

These contests were held during the assembly period on successive Tuesdays, and the students were permitted to hear them, casting a ballot for the best three men in each division. This is the first time this system has been attempted, and judging from the intelligence of the students' choices, it will probably be continued. While the number of men who tried out for this contest was about the same as in the past, the quality of the selections was much inferior.

as an important extra-curricular activity.

The play deals with the martyrdom of the Christians in the time of Nero, and is in spite of the efforts of Mr. De Mille, an essentially religious and beautiful work. It offers a challenge to the best efforts of the technical staff as well as the actors themselves, since the staging is particularly difficult. It is planned to produce the play on a unit set, which has never before been attempted in Dubuque.

As in the production of 1911, there will be many academy students in the cast, who will take smaller or juvenile roles.

Missions. Ray Roseliep is active in any number of functions around the campus: all phases of Mission work—dramatics, speech, etc., besides being co-editor of the Cee-Ay. He also coppered third place in the recent essay contest. Fran Speyer, ever one agrees, gets around school in very satisfactory manner.

That list should just about overwhelm the average reader. But addition to all that talent, we find three Juniors braving the storm. Joe Kinsella, Paul Streuber, and Joe Voelker are the other Librarian. Mr. Kinsella, a boarder among distinctly day-student group, manages very well to keep abreast behind the "Cage". That star of star in athletic circles, Joe Voelker, also helps to keep order during certain periods. Paul Streuber, in addition to being what is generally termed an all-around "nice guy," finds time to work with Father Churchill for the Missions and in the Pamphlet club.

Gubs Win Over I. C., Cedar Rapids

The Columbia Gubs showing a flashy offense led by Moran and Mathews, two stellar men, defeated the highly touted St. Patrick's five of Cedar Rapids on Tuesday, Jan. 22, by the score of 21-11.

Bill Moran and Bob Mathews led the Gubs offense with 9 points each while Joe Voelker was a close second with 8 points.

Machovic, star guard, led the visitors offense with 9 points. The St. Patrick's five gave the Gubs a good run in playing a game of defense.

Platteville and Columbia

With the Columbia Academy Gubs showing improvement with every game, the strong Platteville five went down to defeat before the Gubs onslaught.

The playing of Johnny Kolzenbach and Joe Henkel, on defense and offense Bill Moran, dropping them in almost anywhere, were the features of the game.

Platteville tried valiantly but were completely out-classed from beginning to end. The final score was 29-15.

TWO COLUMBIANS WIN CITY SKATING DERBY

Many Columbian's were also present to see their classmates compete.

GUBLETS IN 27 TO 8 VICTORY OVER CASCADE

The Academy Reserves won an easy 27 to 8 victory over the St. Mary's team of Cascade in their meeting on the college floor as a preliminary to the Gubs-Platteville game.

St. Mary's got off to an early lead. However, when Coach Weldon sent in Ernsdorf, Ottavi, Reilly and Ryan who have been christened "The Big Four of Little Dimensions" it was a different story. These little fellows piled up point after point while they held their much larger opponents to one field goal.

Gubs Beat Cedar Rapids Quintet

The Gubs defeated L. C., Cedar Rapids, by the overwhelming score of 33 to 20 on the latter's own floor. The game was a fast one in which the perfect clicking of the Gub machine featured.

Columbia took the lead right after the opening whistle and added point after point in piling up their score. The final period was played with all of the Gub reserves seeing service. It was during this period that Joe McCafferey, substitute center, proved himself to be a capable offensive player by scoring 5 points.

Wolfe, I. C.'s tall center, was the outstanding offensive and defensive man for the losers. He accounted for seven of his team's total.

Xavier, Dyersville, In Win Over Gubs, 16-15

St. Xavier High administered a surprise and heartbreaking defeat to the Gubs on the Dyersville floor Friday evening, defeating them 20 to 15.

Xavier trailed all through the game but in the last few minutes of play staged a rally that won the game. Goerdts sunk two long shots and Henkel followed with another to give Dyersville a five point lead which they held until the final gun.

Kolzenbach turned in another sensational defensive game even though Dyersville triumphed. Henkels and Goerdts were the whole Xavier team on the offensive. Together they scored 16 of their team's 20 points.

Columbia Duhawks Outpoint Loyola 29-27

In the fastest and most exciting game witnessed this year the Duhawks defeated Loyola 29 to 27. The rally staged by the Columbians near the end of the game brought a wild and cheering crowd to their feet.

The lead changed hands throughout the game, but deadly shooting on the part of Leamy and Keegan was responsible for victory. Impressive guarding by the team as a whole brought cheers from the spectators. Injuries and fouls ejected many of the Loyola quintet, but they still retained a potential scoring threat which consisted of accurate long range shots and well executed plays under the basket. Every man on both teams proved himself a star. This victory displays the prowess of the champion bound Duhawks, and should give them added courage in future games.

Previous to this victory the Duhawks overwhelmed Morningside 41 to 21. This lopsided score does not indicate the interest displayed

CATHOLIC ACTION NOTES

Last Sunday the students offered their Mass and Holy Communion for a twofold intention—first, that the persecutions in Mexico might soon cease; secondly, that the Bill for investigations of conditions in Mexico be successfully passed. Incidentally the Senior Class sent a letter to Senators Murphy and Dickinson asking to support the Borah Resolution.

Among the volunteer adorers at Public Exposition last First Friday, three-fourths of the student body were represented. Let's make it one hundred percent next time, students!

As a part of the Catholic Press Program being sponsored during February, the Seniors have pledged themselves to purchase, read, and pass on to a non-Catholic family, a pamphlet every week. They have chosen the pamphlets, "Our Precious Bodies," "Rebel Mexico," "Does Confession Make Sinning Easy?", and "How to Pray the Mass."

There is a remarkable increase in the reading of Catholic authors as evidenced by the book reports received in all the Religion classes in the Academy.

The Catholic Book Shelf at the Public Library might well be emulated by other cities in the diocese. It is to be congratulated upon its splendid choice of volumes.

The Season of Lent has always been of importance in the Academy. A tradition that dates back many years is the daily making of the Way of the Cross by both students and faculty. On Wednesday, during assembly period, there will be recitation of the rosary, benediction, and an instruction. On Friday there will be benediction and the Way of the Cross.

The Most Reverend Francis J. Beckman will preach a sermon over the Columbia Broadcasting System, consisting of over ninety radio stations, Sunday, February 24, at twelve o'clock noon, central standard time, from the St. Joseph Chapel, Columbia College. The topic that Archbishop Beckman has chosen is "The Church and Peace."

The Junior members of the Pamphlet Club shall report on "Christ and His Church," and "A Letter to One About to Leave the Church."

The Senior Round Tablers were amazed to learn that the Mass is said in twelve languages; that the Pope is not a Roman Catholic but is of the Ambrosian rite.

BEG PARDON

We regret very much that in our story on WKBB in our last issue we omitted the name of Edward Palen, staff announcer.

Mr. Palen is a graduate of Columbia Academy and College and we appreciate the fine work he is doing and we are especially grateful to him and his co-workers for his work at WKBB in giving publicity to Columbia activities.

Senior Dress Parade

James "North End" Ham—Needless to say James comes from the noted Holy Ghost vicinity. Acting as satellite to Kissling and Vogt is James' most essential task. In the meanwhile he finds time to sponge fags—Head Plays preferred.

Eugene "Pie-Face" Hickey—Gene likes to see his name in print once in a while. Rumor states that he pays vast sums to McDermott in the form of ice cream to "pull" for his worthy cause. "Pie-Face" likes to create disturbances in the Cee Ay Room—ask Sean!

Justin "C.S.M.C." Kane—That active little crusader who'd willingly sacrifice his last penny for the Crusade. Justin plays second fiddle for Quirk—we can't see why—and is a strong advocate of Vergil.

Joseph "Possum" Kohler—Two half-days at school per week is Joe's maximum. Often "Possum" is to be found in the library absorbing all literary matter, believing in the adage "Food for thought". We wonder!

Louis "Grizzly" Murray—Just mention the name Grizzly to Louie and watch the results. Louis has quite a sense of humor. Spends half the assembly period giggling with Moran. Watch out for the "good book", Louie, that often lights with a bang.

Robert "Nice Boy" Swift—A gentle little fella (when you don't know him). Appears at all local contests—sick or not. Why does Bob keep his diary locked and what makes his chest expand when "Cedar Falls" is mentioned ?? ?

Jerome "Tonee" Weldon—Eldest of the Famous Weldon Trio—has been at the Academy for —— years. Tonee likes to bluff the Physics Prof, but it doesn't always work out. Acting as Basketball Coach (fourteenth assistant) and receiving visitors in his room take up his spare moments.

Edward "Queen Street" Roth—Teasing O'Neill and trying to get a "drag" are Ed's highest ambitions. We hear that he likes night life in East Dubuque and made a rare "find" while there.

Charles "Out-of-Turn" De Barr—Charles hails from Madison. He'd be a good little boy if he'd only listen while his elders speak and not chirp out of turn. Imagine Charles' embarrassment when a group of Juniors initiated him, thinking he
